

GFace Follows

Use the GFace class you implemented and write a program that when you press left mouse button a random size GFace appear and follows the cursor as long as left button is not released. Once released GFace remains still.

